SEPTEMBER 15, 2024

24TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

He summoned the crowd with his disciples and said to them, "Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me. For whoever wishes to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for my sake and that of the gospel will save it."
 - Mk 8:34-35

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD ©LPI

24th Sunday in ordinary Time B
 Beloved in Christ, today, the twenty-fourth Sunday in ordinary time, we honor and celebrate Christ, the Son of God, who humbly accepted the weakness of our human condition. He demonstrated his solidarity with us by generously renouncing himself and taking the cross.

Our first reading from Isaiah is one of the "Suffering servant songs". It is the prophecies about Jesus Christ, the Messiah who willingly and humbly accepted the cross for the salvation of humanity. Through his action, Christ proved his love for us and through it, he demonstrated his faith in his Father.

Our second reading is a challenge for each one of us to be practical with our faith. It presents us with the reality of what it means to be a true Christian. St. James reminds us that: "Faith without good work is dead or useless".

While reflecting on today's readings, I recalled these words of Jennifer Lopez on her appeal for charity on behalf of sick children. She says: "Miracles do not come easily. Behind every miracle, there is a generous and charitable heart".

This generous and charitable heart is a heart of faith in action. God needs our prayer, our sweet talks, and most importantly, our faith expressed in concrete steps. This is what he needs most to achieve the next miracle for others. Christ proved his love for us by being practical. He prayed and offered his own life for us. Practical Christianity means faith in action. It means sacrifice. It means sharing in the pain and joy of others.

Fr. Sylvester Bioh.

Gospel Meditation Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

This morning I received a text message that a member of my extended family will likely die of cancer within the next few hours. His name is Luke. He is a 45-year-old husband and father of six. Though I am not as close to him as my sister (she is his sister-in-law and knows him well), I wonder: how can we, including Luke himself, manage such a terribly awful and unfair situation?

The words of this Sunday's Gospel offer a powerful and challenging path. Jesus says, "If any want to become my followers, let them deny themselves and take up their cross and follow me" (Mark 8:34). Today I see with new freshness the starkness and strangeness of the words take up. The cross stands for suffering which is unjust, absurd, seemingly hopeless, and humiliating. Jesus doesn't say "accept" or "endure" or "tolerate," but "take up." Embrace it, actively. Choose it and lift it up for others to see what terrifies and sickens us. But somehow, for Jesus, this is the path to "saving one's life." A new world is breaking in, one in which love is everything, when no relationship can be wounded or die. I trust that in the embraced suffering of Luke and his loved ones, Jesus is taking up his cross and saving us all.

By the time you read this, barring a miracle, Luke will have died. He will be carrying his cross no longer. But we all still face suffering. This week let's not just endure, but take up our crosses, big and small. That's our only hope for saving our lives.

- Father John Muir
